2	I have not used it since opening the account and have posted no information	Apr 24, 2012 1:02 PM
3	Not sure if it is available from home. As a part-time teacher we only tend to be on sight when we have classes thus soe of the times that courses are available we are not actually at the college. If we were able to access it from home we could then participate more regularly.	Apr 24, 2012 12:23 PM
4	No actual difficulties, just a lack of time to play around the program to see the possibilities!	Apr 15, 2012 10:19 AM

12	lack of frequency means I need to re-familiarise myself with it each time. The homepage dosen't invite ease of use.	Mar 27, 2012 4:21 PM
13	My lack of experience. I tend to only use the one section that I have been shown. I haven't had a chance to play around with it much.	Mar 27, 2012 3:41 PM
14	Understanding what its purpose is other than for journals???	Mar 27, 2012 2:36 PM

20	It is somewhat confusing to navigate, even though the site has been laid out to minimise confusion and promote ease-of-use, unless you know your way around you can get quite lost within the site.	Mar 27, 2012 11:39 AM
21	Takes a little time to get used to the tabs and the pages	Mar 27, 2012 11:39 AM

28	My Journal showed that it had saved an entry, the same day I created it I logged out of foliospaces as I was satisfied that I had finished what I needed to do and logged back into it about an hour later as I had to add extra details to my journal it still showed it but when I logged in a week later it wasn't there. My foliospaces account is being checked to see if the problem occurs again.	Mar 27, 2012 9:44 AM

37	I do find it a little difficult to navigate through ePortfolio sometimes as the layout is different from all other programs I have used in the past. I think it could be a little more user friendly and easier to navigate as some of the actions seem to be hidden sometimes.	Mar 23, 2012 9:16 AM
